PROFILE

My name is Yaroslav. I am currently studying to receive my undergraduate degree at the American College of Greece – Deree. My passion in life and field of study in Information Technology with the focus on software development. Over past years, I have tried to not only do good at my studies but also, practice my skills in the office and with personal projects.

My work has proven to be beneficial for the companies I worked for and allowed me to learn things that I find valuable for my future career. Also, I am advocating online learning and spend a lot of time perfecting my skills and knowledge with courses and lessons available online.

My coworkers and friends would find me determined and focused on my passion for bringing something great to this life and defeat all obstacles with out-of-the-box thinking and creative approach to troubleshooting. As my strong skills, I would emphasize the next few as they came both from my personal projects and corporate experience.
